

A word about your teacher..

Carys Davies completed her studies in English and Education at The University of Wales in 1977.

After living in the USA she settled in Germany and has worked as English teacher and Consultant since 1984. As well as her regular teaching commitments, her tasks range from writing the English pages for the DaimlerChrysler Intranet to providing CDs on current affairs for managers and acting as consultant and teacher trainer in elementary schools in the new area of 'English Früherziehung'. She acts as Facilitator at international congresses and meetings. Her aim is to enable her students to understand the English-speaking world, both language and culture.

Lessons are augmented by regular Cultural Events such as concerts and benefits.

Carys has two children: Laura (26) works for Greenforce Coral Reef Protection on Borneo, and Robin (21), at University in London, whose main interest is playing the bagpipes. She loves working in the garden of her old German farmhouse and travelling, especially with her husband – she married Prof. Dr. Horst-E. Rikeit in August 2002.
